

WILD HOMESTEAD LIVING

Kevin Mack & Julie Stonefelt

We make sustainability simple whether you live in the city, country, or somewhere in between.

neighbor@WildHomesteadLiving.com

www.WildHomesteadLiving.com

YOU CAN FIND US ON THESE PLATFORMS AS @WildHomesteadLiving

TikTok

YouTube

Pinterest

Facebook

Instagram

BIO

After being diagnosed with life threatening illness just a few years apart, we decided to stop speculating on our dreams and starting living them.

We have devoted our professional careers to wild animals and wild places, but we got serious about healthy living after Kevin was diagnosed with Type 1 diabetes and Julie was diagnosed with breast cancer.

We made our country living dream come true in 2018. We live on a little less than 2 acres in the Snoqualmie Valley of Washington State.

It wasn't until we moved to our own property that we realized we had been homesteading all along, even if it didn't look quite like the scenes from Laura Ingalls Wilder's books.

Now we are on a mission to help others live their dreams too.

TOPICS

Homesteading with Chronic Pain & Illness
Things might look a little different for those of us dealing with health challenges, but it is possible to go beyond just surviving and to thrive.

Living with Wildlife
Understanding wild animals can help you enjoy their presence, preventing conflicts before they start.

Getting Started with Sustainable Living
By making small changes you can lead a happier, healthier life that is more connected to nature.

AS SEEN IN

Wildfire Magazine

Hawthorn Farm Podcast

Alderleaf Wilderness College